HIDE MANUFACTURER TAKES LIFE AFTER PLACING OF CHARGES

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21.—Blair Crohon, head of the Great Western Hide Company of Boston, Mass., who with Phil Paris, secretary of the company, was arrested in Grand Rapids Sept. 13, on a warrant charging grand larceny of $48,872, died in a hospital here of poison, taken deliberately.

Crohon was found unconscious in a berth on a Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company steamer. He was brought to a hospital here, where he died a few hours later.

In his pocket were found newspaper clippings and two farewell notes. The clippings told of his arrest in Grand Rapids and one of the notes told of his intention to kill himself.

Crohon was known during the World War as "the Millionaire Hide King" because of his highly profitable speculation in hides.

According to the clippings, he had borrowed large sums of money from the Anglo-South American bank in Boston. At his request he was allowed to go alone to Boston to face the charge.

Instead of going to Boston, Crohon, went to Corry, Penn., where he attempted to end his life Saturday by taking gas, according to one of the notes found in his pocket.

He requested that if his body were found it should be sent to his widow at Grand Rapids.

night, Sept. 22, 1920. Xenia is fortunate in securing Dr. Bowen during this campaign as his services are at the disposition of the National Republican committee only and it will be the good fortune of but a few communities in this country to hear him. The ladies are especially invited to this meeting.

When a Doctor Sneezes

Doctors, out in all kinds of weather, suffer frequently from colds yet seldom seriously.

There's a good reason. Doctors realize the danger and upon appearance of the first symptoms of cold begin taking medicine to check its progress.

Follow the doctors' example and you too will escape the serious consequences of neglect. Take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets as soon as you feel a cold coming on. They stop a cold right off; ward off fever, cleanse intestines; never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them; only 25c a box.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY ADVISED FOR HAY FEVER

Anyone Can Make a Pint for Trifling Sum and Used in Time May Prevent Annual Attack.

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be.

"No matter how distressing or humiliating—

"Its intensity can be reduced to a harmless mildness," says a Kentucky druggist, who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unquarable cases of Hay and Rose fever reduced to what might be called a Mild Cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack, the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and snuff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcine in three-quarter-ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

Mentholized Arcine is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

COMMUNITY WELFARE ASSOCIATION NOW FORMED IN SCHOOL

A Community Welfare Association was organized at a mass meeting of the schools of Jefferson township, which was held at the centralized school near Bowersville, last Friday. Meetings under the auspices of the association will be held the second Tuesday of each month, for the purpose of bringing teachers and patrons in closer co-operation for the benefit of the school.

The exercises of Mass Day commenced in the forenoon at 10 o'clock. The morning program consisted of the showing of five reels of motion pictures. Jefferson township school is one of the few schools in this part of the state equipped for showing movies.

At noon the crowd ate dinner, picnic fashion on tables spread on the front lawn of the school.

A short program of music and recitations took place in the auditorium in the afternoon. After the program the children were dismissed to the playground while the patrons remained for the purpose of discussing an organization of patrons and teachers to co-operate in the work of the school. A. B. Lewis presided, and persons belonging to a membership committee that had been selected at a previous meeting were called upon to give their idea of the benefit to the school from such an organization. The members who spoke were Mrs. Chitty, Miss Huffman and Miss Sutton. Short addresses explaining what had been accomplished by similar organizations in other schools were given by County Superintendent H. C. Aultman; Superintendent Collins of Ross township and Mrs. Corry of Clifton. After the meeting an informal reception was held for the new teachers. The day closed with a ball game in which a Bowersville team defeated the Jasper Mills team by a score of 9 to 4.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON CAMPAIGN EXPENSES TO MEET IN ST. LOUIS

May Clear up Matters Overlooked In Former Meeting.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Senator Kenyon today declared he considers it not improbable that the senatorial subcommittee investigating campaign expenditures and alleged slush funds would meet Monday in St. Louis for the purpose of clearing up certain matters which he had overlooked in announcing the hearings would probably end in Washington Saturday. Precisely what these matters are the Senator did not reveal declaring he would await the arrival in the capital of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri one of the two Democratic members of the committee before definitely deciding on the proposed extension.

Senator Kenyon who previously fixed the end of the slush fund hearings for Saturday, suggested there might be a further session in St. Louis upon being informed that Senator Reed desired a continuation in St. Louis on Monday.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN FAYETTE JAIL

Dan Penwell, 30, prisoner in the Fayette county jail at Washington, C. H., and held to the grand jury under bond in the sum of $300 on a grand larceny charge in connection with a burglary case, attempted suicide in the jail Sunday morning by slashing his throat and chest with a safety razor blade.

Penwell was found lying on his bunk covered with blood by another prisoner. He was unconscious from loss of blood, the blood having barely missed the jugular vein. Following medical aid it was said that he would survive. It is believed his mind was unbalanced from the effect of gas received in France while serving in the army.

DEMOCRATS FORM HARDING CLUB TO DEFEAT GOVERNOR

New York, Sept. 20.—Rhinelander Waldo, president of the Harding Democratic league, made public the following statement:

Democrats opposed to the league of nations completed the organization of the Harding Democratic league, to work for the election of the Republican nominee for president.

The Harding Democrats oppose Governor Cox because of his subservience to President Wilson.

Colonel Rhinelander Waldo, a life long Democrat and a veteran of the Spanish-American war and the Filipino insurrection and the world war, is president of the league. He was first commissioner and police commissioner of New York.

"We are all democrats in the league and our executive committee is made up of 100 Democrats in all sections of the country," said Colonel Waldo. "We are not only voters for Harding but active, enthusiastic workers for him. Our platform is short and direct. We are for patriotism before partisanship. We are for America first."

"We want no league of nations, with its trail of war-producing alliances. We are against Wilson and autocracy at home."

"Sentiment for the Harding league began to grow among Democrats following the call of Governor Cox on President Wilson."

"All the Democrats in the Harding Democratic League are against Cox in the White House as a Wilson proxy and a Wilson rubber stamp."

"Many of the Democrats who were foremost in the fight to elect Mr. Wilson are members of the Harding Democratic League."

Recently Miss Brown made an address from Harding's famous front porch in Marion.

PALMER WILL PUSH INQUIRY IN ALLEGED PROFITEERING CASE

Washington, Sept. 20.—Despite the recent decision of Judge Mack at New York, adverse to the government in American Woolen company indictments, the department of justice is pursuing vigorous inquiry into alleged profiteering by the company. It was officially announced today. Although it is the purpose of the attorney general to press his investigation along this line, it was said to be improbable that further indictments will be asked for until final decision is handed down by the supreme court on the New York indictments.

Attorney General Palmer, it was said today, looked for a decision by the highest court early in the fall term. The American Woolen company officials were indicted for alleged profiteering in woolen cloth. Judge Mack upheld a demurrer filed by the defendants that the government's indictments were defective. The government appealed the case and it is now before the highest tribunal.

Anticipating a favorable decision, the attorney general has directed that his inspectors continue their gathering of proof which may be used in later proceedings before federal grand juries. The present inquiry relates partly to alleged attempts to combine to fix prices and restrict production. The investigation covers the activities of subsidiaries of the American Woolen company conducted as jobbing concerns.

SENATE RATIFIES.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 21.—The senate has unanimously ratified the suffrage amendment. The resolution now goes to the house.

Sayre & Hemphill.

POWER PLANT CLOSES DOWN FOR TWO HOURS CRIPPLING INDUSTRY

The Washington Gas and Electric Company which furnished power for Washington, C. H. Closed down its plant for two hours shortly after noon Monday paralyzing Washington industries.

The shutdown was made without warning or previous announcement it is said and was due, according to officials to the inability of the company to locate a licensed engineer. The company pleaded that state interference was expected unless licensed engineers were used. Threats of court action unless operation was resumed at the plant caused the power to be turned on two hours afterward.

Agitations caused by business men affected by the shut down led to reaching Manager Gross of the company at Waverly and he issued orders for resumption of operation with the same engineer in charge. Offers for the loan of an engineer by other business firms were declined by officials of the company.

The Washington Herald, crippled by the shut down of power, rushed four forms to Sabina to print a small edition of the paper run off there when the power was resumed.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

John Flack, Wilberforce, was arrested on a speeding charge by Motorcycle officer Stehem Monday afternoon. He was charged with driving at the rate of 32 miles an hour and was fined $10 and costs following his plea of guilty.

Pete, listen hard!

Buffalo N.Y. — on a Saturday!

When it's your good luck to butt into Buffalo, go to that store on Ellicott square where the dark haired clerk slips out Camels with both hands—plus a tank of talk on the side!

The thing that tickled me most was his sureness that I was after Camels! As soon as I had my coin on the counter and before I could say a word, he flashed me a package of Camels! When I asked him how he knew I wanted Camels, he took a pull on his laugh stock and soaked me with this:—"Can't tell you, old mayonnaise—I'm dressing!"

After he had waited on several other men who drew their Camels like I did, this salesman said:—"For a fact, most men here smoke Camels. They hit the popular taste! Camels have the right body and the right mildness and the right flavor! They're all right!"

And, Pete—he added this without a stutter: The more I see of the world and the more I learn about cigarettes, the more respect I have for Camels and Camels quality! I don't believe a better cigarette could be made at any price! And Pete—oh, Pete—listen to this gem:—"And it's an odds on bet I'm a good judge. I've tried 'em all—and my taste is the jury box!"

If that isn't a swell line of Camel talk, I'll sell my shoes! But, Pete, that salesman is right! It's my belief that no cigarette in the world can be favorably compared with Camels—they're so smooth and mellow and delightful!

I'm herewith slipping between the sheets, old book. So, you tell 'em the rest—you're so full of knowledge!

Sincerely

Shorty.

TOM WATSON AS A SAMPLE BRICK OF THE POLITICAL POLICY OF THE SOLID SOUTH.

The election of Thomas E. Watson to the United States Senate from Georgia deserves more than passing notice from the rest of the country. It puts in the foreground a dangerous type of Southern politician and it gives a valuable sidelight on the social and political status of the people who elected him as their representative.

Watson is a fair example of that Southern leadership which elects to be led rather than to lead and which prefers to take the easy way among an illiterate following. There is no issue in Georgia save the negro, and consequently the successful candidate is usually the one who engenders the most bitter race hatreds.

Watson is a Georgia cracker only with respect to his political tenets. In purely mental attainments he is perhaps the foremost living Georgian. He has been a powerful political figure in Georgia for over twenty years. His turn to race prejudice as a political issue dates from the latter half of his career and is in itself an indictment of the social and political status of his state.

There is no real vital issue in Georgia politics. There is not strength enough, nor indeed brains enough, in any social or economic group to raise a legitimate issue. The poor whites live and die poor whites, cursing a fate that placed them alongside of the negro in the race of life. The aristocrats, so-called, live and die aristocrats, aloof and unconcerned over the condition of this vast body of poor whites. There are neither the resources nor the opportunities for quick riches such as exist in the North. The sons of the men who were leaders in Georgia fifty years ago are as a rule the real social and financial leaders of today.

Watson is the exception which does not alter the case with respect to the illiterate, poor whites. He is distinctly one of them, both as to birth and training. But having risen above his own class through sacrifice and unquestioned merit, he has not striven to raise their political standards or to widen their mental horizon. Instead he has fallen in with the most illiterate citizens in their crusades against the negro. The negroes are to be kept forever from voting, are to be kept in ignorance and are to be lynched occasionally as a matter of discipline. The Watson policy and in fact the whole Solid South policy solely revolve around the issue of keeping some race or group down.

And that is the real curse of Georgia. Whatever of talent there might be among the leadership of Georgia falls in with this accepted policy. Business, big and little, bows to it. The leadership of the press and pulpit makes no determined effort to supplant it with a better issue. In the meantime, thousands of negroes leave yearly for other more enlightened communities.

A GREASY STORY ABOUT THE MEXICAN GREASERS.

For years Mexico has been in the throes of revolution and anarchy. It is said that the American and other oil companies have been back of some of the trouble. Naturally they have wanted to protect their huge interests and prevent them from being confiscated, as some of the Mexicans demanded.

But it seems that the latest way is to use money to buy off the trouble-makers, as if they were plain bandits, instead of trying to continue the war against them. It is asserted that the 2,000,000 pesos that Villa received came from the American oil men; also that they bought off Felix Diaz and other leaders who threatened more bloodshed; also that it was this same golden lubricant that removed the friction in Lower California, where Gov. Cantu was staging a little insurrection.

Civilians in Mexico are more or less worked up over the use of American money and influence to control their elections and their government. However, what Mexico wants more than anything else is peace and order. After that is secured the people may reasonably look for the establishment of a more popular system of government.

According to a treasury statement issued in Mexico City, Mexico has been producing more petroleum this year than all the other countries combined. Estimated shipments for the year aggregate 140,000,000 barrels. July was the banner month, when all records in the history of the country were broken with the exportation of nearly 13,000,000 barrels. The oil companies paid the export taxes under protest; the government threatened to seize the wells unless the taxes were paid.

GARFIELD'S SLOGAN.

The transparent device of dragging the Maine victory over the trail of the Solid South, attempted by Secretary Daniels, has brought forth a most clean-cut analysis of the political situation by James R. Garfield, formerly Secretary of the Interior. He sums up the Cox candidacy as one of "booze and bossism," in which the sectionalism of the Solid South is tied up to the northern Democratic machines in an effort to continue the present control of the country by a minority party and a minority section. The slogan of "booze and bossism" is developed as a rhetorical climax by Mr. Garfield, as follows:

If the country should go Democratic this year, it would be absolutely in the grip of the old southern machine, plus the Tammanies of New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Governor Cox was nominated because he was willing to be nominated on this basis. Every wet influence recognizes him as the wet candidate. It is unnecessary for him to declare himself on the subject; it was unnecessary for the party platform adopted at San Francisco to declare itself; the fine free-masonry of booze and bossism has him marked for its own. It recognizes him as its blood brother.

If Mr. Garfield's analysis may seem extreme, it is more than justified by the circumstances.

COMPLETED STREET OPENED TO TRAFFIC; NEW WORK BEGUN

Home avenue, newly paved was given its first baptism of fire Sunday. The street, which was finished Saturday afternoon was thrown open to traffic Sunday and motorists made good the opportunity of a personal inspection of the asphalt laid by the Republic Asphalt company.

The street took on the appearance of a boulevard with vehicles forming a continual procession of traffic all day long and late into the night. Smooth as glass, the new street offered wonderful opportunities for the auto drivers who made good use of the holiday and the thoroughfare.

Monday morning workmen started laying the asphalt on Union street and according to J. E. Conley of the Republic Asphalt Company that street will be finished by Tuesday afternoon. Immediately workmen will start laying the asphalt on Gallop street either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. When that street is concluded, the top coat will be put on Cincinnati avenue. This work can be done quickly and with the nice weather continuing the entire paving contract will be finished before cold weather.

Is It Yours

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF
LOUIS BONAPARTE
September 21, 1778

Louis Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, was born at Ajaccio, in 1778. He was the particular protégé of his elder brother who supervised his education and once wrote home, "I am much pleased with Louis' progress. He fulfills every hope I have for him." Napoleon who ran his family and friends sometimes like a tyrant and sometimes like a benevolent father, took Louis with him on most of his campaigns. He fought with him in Italy and in Egypt and who he was 24 he married him to Hortense Beauharnais.

As far as Louis Bonaparte was concerned, this marriage was one of the most disastrous things that could have happened to him. They were intensely miserable together and finally separated. Hortense was sister of Prince Eugene Beauharnais and daughter of the charming widow Josephine whom Napoleon married and later so shamefully divorced.

When Napoleon was at the very peak of his career and when he held all Europe in the hollow of his hand he made his brother Louis king of Holland, just as he made kings out of all members of his family. But Louis survived Napoleon's downfall by many years spending the latter part of his life in retirement and dying in 1846. His son, Louis Napoleon became president of the French republic—Napoleon's own son having died.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Women should understand that melancholy, commonly called the "Blues," is in nine times out of ten a pure symptom of some organic derangement which should have attention. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for such conditions, as proved by many testimonials which we are constantly publishing from women who have been restored to health by its use.

HOW MANY?

The panic men forecasted has not yet cantered by; our flag is not half masted, and we are living high. What though the prophet rages throughout the heedless land? We're drawing princely wages, our work is in demand; we find the money growing upon the evergreens, when we are blithely going to work in limousines. Where once the guilders trickled, they now in rivers shine; how many have you pickled, how many are in brine? The times, so brisk and breezy, have lasted until now; and money's been so easy we fed it to the cow; and I am not predicting a dreadful time to come, or drearily inflicting a preachment out of plumb. But if you wake tomorrow and find the boom is dead, will you be forced to borrow before the week is sped? For months you have been tickled, the dollars came so swift; how many have you pickled, because of inborn thrift? How many have you carried to some safe banker's vault, while foolish spendthrifts tarted with grape juice and near malt? It is a time enchanted, when roubles grow like weeds; how many have you planted, how many helpful seeds?

LAD RUN DOWN.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 20.—Robert Booth, 7, was run down and fatally injured by an automobile driven by Covington Westlake, former county auditor, today. Mr. Westlake rushed the lad to a hospital where he died shortly afterward. It is believed the boy darted from behind a telephone pole to join a companion on the other side of the street.

CORN CUTTING NOW IN FULL PROGRESS

Although set back ten days by rains which prevented the ripening of the corn, corn cutting is now in full progress in Greene county, according to County Farm Agent Ford S. Prince. Corn cutting in this section usually starts about the first of September, but the delay in ripening held up the season. According to indications now there will be plenty of labor during the corn cutting season. Many corn cutters are applying for jobs this season, in comparison to the few who have followed this work for the last few years.

Owing to the delay in corn cutting, silo filling has also been delayed but is moving along rapidly now. Those inclined to plant their wheat early have also experienced delay because of the late cutting, but Farm Bureau officials are urging late planting this season any way to avoid Hessian fly which has made inroads in wheat crops in this section recently.

GIVES HISTORY OF CONSTITUTION IN TALK

Giving a concise, brief and enlightening history of "The American Constitution," Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, spoke to a large crowd at Wilmington last week.

"Recent facts," said Dr. Fess, "compel men to admit that ours alone is only government that has been drifting toward autocracy under the present leadership. But I can as confidentially assert that the drift for the last eight years is soon to end."

Congressman Fess has been busy during the last few weeks delivering speeches in behalf of the Republican campaign. This week he will deliver an address before the Harding-Coolidge club of Mechanicsburg.

Mrs. George Paxton of Springfield, is visiting her mother, Mrs. David Hughes.

Frank Howell of Imperial Beach, Cal., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. W. Neff. Mr. Howell will attend the encampment at Indianapolis this week.

PRESS LAVISH IN PRAISE OF SHOW

"A glittering galaxy of gorgeous, gladsome girlies will mirthfully hold the attention of those who witness the latest cartoon musical comedy, 'Katzenjammer Kids,'"

So reads a press notice of this latest stage interpretation of Sunday color page sections, which comes to the opera house under the management of the Standard Amusement company for Saturday September 25. The piece is a breezy adaptation by George M. Gatts, of the comic page that has held the hearts of the newspaper readers for years. It is a singing, dancing, fun and girl show with elaborately costumed chorus and less of the slap stick than the title would indicate. The piece is expected to be one of the most popular offerings of early season.

HOUSECLEANING IN POLITICS UP TO WOMEN DECLARES FORMER DAYTON POLICEMAN IN ADDRESS BEFORE REPUBLICAN WOMEN

There is no danger that men will lose their chivalry because women are in politics, according to Miss Anna V. McCullough, former Dayton policeman, who made an address at the Xenia Opera House Monday night under the auspices of the Greene County Women's Republican Club.

"In fact," said Miss McCullough, "I never had so much attention and consideration from men in my life, as I have had since suffrage has been extended to women."

Miss McCullough has no sympathy for the woman who says that she intends to take no part in politics because they are too "rotten" for her.

"There is no woman no matter of how good a family, who hasn't had some 'housecleaning' to do for her own family, and after five years on the police force I have no fear of meeting anything in politics that is too bad for me. I am in no way frightened at the prospect," said the speaker.

Miss McCullough declared that the men are expecting women to do some political housecleaning. Also she said there are many questions directly affecting women, which the men, occupied with business, could not be expected to pay as much attention to as women. Among other matters of particular interest to women, she set forth, is the child labor question, which with the ballot in the hands of women, can be handled from a new standpoint.

Miss McCullough named four classes of women voters. First, those who think politics too dirty for them to take any part in. Second, the independent voter, who will not affiliate with any party. Third, the blind partisan, and fourth, the sane voter, who is loyal to her own party, but does her best to raise the standard of the politics of that party.

"The independent voter, who refuses to affiliate with any party, on the grounds that she can then vote for the person whom she considers the best candidate, doesn't have anything to do except endorse the work of somebody else," said the speaker.

While declaring that the woman voter should affiliate with a political party, Miss McCullough declared that she should not accept as ideal everything the party does, but do her part to raise the standard of the ideals of the party.

The ideals and principles of the Republican party she pointed out as those which women could endorse, and discussed the League of Nations and the stand taken by the Republican party regarding the pact.

She declared that the League of Nations should never have been made a political issue, because it is too big a question. The United States would jeopardize its ideals by entering the League of Nations, said Miss McCullough, and she declared that foreign born peoples on our own shores should be taught American ideals before an attempt is made to teach them to the nations across the water.

Miss McCullough closed her address by urging personal work among the new women voters. "There are so many women who never see any farther than their own doorstep that they cannot be reached in any other way," she said.

Mrs. A. E. Faulkner, president of the Women's Republican Club was chairman of the meeting. At the conclusion of the address she announced that the women's committees had not yet been completed and asked for suggestions as to the manner of filling them. It was decided that the members of the executive committee already named should complete the naming of the committees. The Republican women will have an executive, publicity, campaign and membership committees. Precincts will be polled and the work of getting votes for Harding and Coolidge and the Republican state ticket will proceed systematically. Meetings will be held in all the townships of the county, and Republican principles explained to the women. Instruction ballots, and polling places where the women may be taught how to vote will also probably be provided.

Mrs. Faulkner as head of the Republican Club is making an appeal to women to assist in the work of the campaign. She has received some volunteers, but wants more from every part of the county, and Xenia.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR LATE JUDGE SHEARER ARE HELD MONDAY

With members of the Greene County Bar and many other friends in attendance, funeral services for Judge Charles C. Shearer were held at Christ church Monday afternoon.

The Rev. Edmund T. Jillion of Cincinnati, a former rector of Christ Church read the beautiful Episcopal burial ritual at the church and at the grave in the family plot in Woodland. The hymn 'Lead Kindly Light' and Tennyson's 'Crossing the Bar,' favorites of the decedent were read by the rector at the church.

Eight men, with whom Judge Shearer had been associated professionally and as a friend, served as honorary pallbearers. Acting in that capacity were: Judge H. L. Smith, Judge C. H. Kyle, M. A. Broadstone, John W. Prugh, J. D. Steele, E. C. Rader, John A. Nisbet, W. L. Miller. The casket was borne by D. H. Cherry, C. S. Frazer, R. W. Irwin, Herman Eavey, John M. Davidson and Joseph A. Finney.

The floral tribute included a hand som wreath of galax leaves and roses from the Greene County Bar Association. Judge Matthews and Judge O. B. Brown were among the out of town attorneys who came for the funeral.

REACH AGREEMENT.

INTER-CHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT SOLVENT

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The inter-church world movement has been reorganized and is solvent, Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago, chairman of the committee of 15 appointed to effect the reorganization announced.

More than $1,000,000 has been paid into the organization by the denominations which undertook to underwrite the original $100,000,000 campaign Bishop Nicholson said, and pledges due will provide sufficient funds to pay all the debts of the old organization and furnish the budget of the new up until Jan. 1.

Conferences will open in New York within two or three weeks he said, looking to a new organization on a permanent basis, with all the international bodies of the Protestant Church participating.

THREE FOURTHS OF WAR STAMPS HELD

Washington, Sept. 21.—Approximately 75 percent of all war savings stamps sold by the treasury since the outbreak of the war are still retained by the investors, according to figures made public by the treasury.

The treasury statement shows that since the government placed the small securities on the market sales have amounted to $1,168,200,000. Redemptions to the middle of September have aggregated slightly more than $360,000,000.

Outstanding stamps and certificates were said to be distributed evenly and little expectation of further heavy redemptions until maturity was expressed.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

DRUG STORE BALLOTS TO TAKE STRAW VOTE

The Rexall Drug Company straw vote on the president, which attracted country-wide attention four years ago and forecast the election of Woodrow Wilson as President is now being taken for the coming election in the 8,000 Rexall stores over the country.

Ballot boxes have been placed in the local Rexall store, the Sayre and Hemphill drug store, where local voters may cast their choice for selection for president. Voters have been casting their ballots at the local store since September 15, but according to the arrangements there will be no count of the votes until September 25. There will be two official counts before October 1, and thereafter the returns will be announced each day from the 8,000 stores so that the complexion of the coming election can be ascertained from all over the country.

The fact that millions of women are franchised to vote this time, and therefore cast their ballot in the straw vote, makes the outcome more interesting. It is still a mystery how these women, casting their first presidential ballot, will vote, and the results of the Rexall straw vote is expected to throw much light on how the final returns will be.

The fact that the straw vote covers the country and that it was only national straw vote that predicted the election of Wilson four years ago makes many people, even politicians, have much faith in the ballot and the daily results will be watched with interest.

N. T. Spiker, 616 Auto-Truck Building, Cincinnati, who left his automobile at the Evans livery barn a week ago, returned for the machine Monday.

Mr. Spiker said when he left the machine to be washed that he would be back the next day. When he did not return the matter was turned over to Chief of Police Graham who telephoned Frank Switalski, secretary of the Cincinnati Automobile Club in regard to the machine. Learning the name of the owner he is about to inaugurate a search for him when Spiker showed up a week late.

CONDUCTS AUDIT OF CITY'S BOOKS

E. A. Hagerty, assistant state examiner, arrived in this city Monday evening and began the check of the city's finances Tuesday morning.

C. E. Lippencott, of Sidney, chief examiner, arrived in Xenia Tuesday and the two accountants will audit the city's books and check up the city finances. They will probably be here a month.

ATTEND CONVENTION IN CLEVELAND

Judge and Mrs. H. L. Smith, J. W. Prugh, S. B. LeSourd and G. M. Stiles, left for Cleveland Tuesday to be in attendance at the sessions of Ohio State Building and Loan Association Convention. Mr. Prugh is on the program for an address before the delegates. Mr. Prugh, Mr. LeSourd and Mr. Stiles will return Friday while Judge and Mrs. Smith will remain in Cleveland until Sunday.

SAYS PAVING WORK MOVING RAPIDLY

S. D. Knight, an official of the Republic Asphalt Company which has the local street paving contract, and vice president of the Ohio Quarries Company at Cleveland, is inspecting the paving work of his company in this city.

"I have been all over the state," said Mr. Knight, "and have seen paving work elsewhere but the work here is moving along faster than any place in the state. In some places the contractors have been forced to quit altogether because of inability to get material."

MOST CRUCIAL PART OF SERIES REMAINS

New York, Sept. 21.—The most crucial of crucial series is yet to be played, apparently. Unless some distance is placed between the White Sox and the Indians today or tomorrow the American league pennant is very likely to be decided in the series of three games between these two teams which start Thursday in Cleveland.

In view of the fact that Cleveland is playing Boston and Chicago is entertaining the Athletics some of the gap between the clubs may even be whittled down for the dope indicates that Cleveland stands a much better chance of being beaten by the Red Sox than do the White Sox at the hands of the Connie Mack outfit. Also Chicago has been making a firm and decided stand on the home lot. The Yankees are not out of the race yet, considering merely the figures. There are a game and a fraction in the rear of the White Sox who are about the same distance back of the Indians. The Yankees have played more games than either and therefore have fewer left to dispose of. The Indians have to meet St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit before they are through. The White Sox face Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis ending their season in the latter city.

The Reds took some joy out of life for Manhattanites when they walked the Giants in the second number of a double bill while the Dodgers were putting away another victory. They gained slightly on the pursuing Giants, if you can call five games and a half in the rear a pursuit. The Dodgers lay off today while the Giants and Reds take each other by the throat again. Tomorrow the Braves will visit the Dodgers and the Cubs will be back for a farewell call at the Polo Grounds.

CENTRAL HIGH WILL MEET HILLSBORO 11

Coach Ward Young's Central High School griders are working strenuously this week in preparation for the first game of the season, which will be played with Hillsboro High school at that place Friday afternoon.

Hillsboro books all of its games on Friday afternoon instead of Saturday, because a number of players have work to do on Saturday. For this reason the locals have one less day in which to get ready for the initial combat.

Tuesday evening Coach Young scheduled a battle for his hefties with the high school second team and irregulars which is expected to assist the local mentor in determining his pick of the first team which will meet Hillsboro Friday. The fact that there is much new material on hand this year with a new coach at the helm, has made it difficult to make a selection and for this reason, Coach Young has been drilling the blue and white athletes hard in order to get the best out of them and show up the real timber.

Of the new material on hand, probably no lad has shown up better in the preliminary rehearsals than McCallister, a short but husky lad who has practically won himself a place on the backfield. This gives assurance that Captain Boxwell, LeSourd and McCallister will be found in the backfield while the fourth man in the secondary defense has not yet been picked. For the line positions there is a world of material and it is likely that the Coach will take all of these players to Hillsboro and give all of them a chance to show their merit.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND SEE RECORDS BROKEN

Columbus, Sept. 21.—More than 5,000 spectators saw two season's records broken in one race at the opening of the Grand Circuit meet here.

In a field of 10 contestants, Rose Scott won the second heat in the horse review futurity for two-year-olds by stepping off a mile in 2:06 1/4. It is claimed this is the fastest mile stepped off by a 2-year-old on any track this year. Rose Scott, who took all three heats, hung up another season's record for 2-year-old trotters by making the three miles in :07 1-4; 2:06 1-2 and 2:09 1-4.

Hal Malone, who won the King stake for 2:06 pacers, by taking straight heats, proved the speediest horse on the program. He took each of the first two miles in 2:02 1-4 and the third heat in 2:04 1-4. The 2:11 trot was won by Miss Perfection, who took the second and third heats in 2:09 3-4 and 2:08 3-4. Because there were so many entrants, the 2:18 pace was raced in two divisions. Oro Direct was winner in the first division, taking the second and third heats in 2:06 1-4 and 2:09 1-4. Dan Elgar led the second division winning the first two miles in 2:06 1-4 each.

CARD BELIEVED USED AS BLIND

A. L. Gordon, proprietor of the "Jamestown Garage" has no knowledge of the Ford automobile belonging to P. J. Burke of Washington C. H., which was alleged to have been left in a Jamestown garage, according to an unsigned card received by Mr. Burke.

The anonymous writer of the card said a Ford answering the description of the one stolen from Mr. Burke was for sale in Jamestown garage. Mr. Gordon who owns the garage which operates under that name denies knowledge of such a car and it is believed by many that the anonymous card was used as a blind to lead investigations astray.

Only One Thing Now Lacking—Money.

"I have doctored nine years for stomach and liver trouble and spent thousands of dollars, but instead of becoming cured of these ailments, my bloating and pains and attacks became worse. I was persuaded a year ago to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and have never suffered since taking the first dose. I wish I had the money back I spent for other medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING IN DAYTON THIS WEEK

Dr. Hugh T. Patrick, professor emeritus of nervous diseases at Chicago University and Dr. Dead D. Lewis of Chicago, were principal speakers at the Monday sessions of the convention of the Second Council District Medical Society of the Ohio State Medical Association which are being held in Dayton at the Fidelity Medical building.

"The proper treatment of functional nervous troubles means treatment of no disease," Dr. Patrick told the 200 or more doctors assembled from this section at the convention Monday. "It means management of the individual patient. This is because functional nervous disorders are abnormal distressing or disabling reactions to circumstances of life.

"The patient must be readjusted to conditions or the conditions must be changed. When symptoms are properly understood as behavior manifestations much may be done for their relief.

"Diet, climate, rest and exercise are only secondary aids," Dr. Patrick said. "The fundamental treatment must be readjustments of the fundamental emotions, such as fear, hate and love."

On the program of address for the week are such speakers as Dr. Walter V. Cannon, teacher of physiology at Harvard; Dr. A. C. Crofton, Chicago and Dr. C. F. Hoover, Cleveland, diagnosticians; Dr. Harry Noble St. Mary's specialist and surgeon and Dr. Henry J. Gerstenberger, Cleveland specialist in pediatrics.

Many of the Xenia and Greene County doctors and attending the sessions every day, and those who are attending are maintaining office hours in the evening in order to take care of the regular patients. Doctors from Montgomery, Clarke, Preble, Darke, Miami, Shelby and Champaign counties are attending besides the local doctors.

Officers of the Second Council District are Dr. W. A. Ewing of Dayton, councilor; Dr. H. B. Martin, Springfield, president; Dr. E. R. Arnold, secretary, and Dr. H. C. Hanning, treasurer. A. C. Messenger of this city is a member of the program committee which has charge of this convention.

Coal Coal Coal

We unloaded last week nine cars of coal, as follows:

- 1 Pocahontas Lump
- 2 Pocahontas Egg
- 5 Crystal Block White Ash
- 1 Ohio Lump

We are unloading today, 2 cars Crystal Block White Ash and 1 car Crystal Egg.

Crystal Egg is unexcelled for use in cooking and heating stoves. There is practically no Pocahontas coal available for domestic use at this time. We still have a few tons of Pocahontas Egg on the yard, and expect to have plenty of both Lump and Egg a little later on. None of our customers need fear but that we shall have their orders filled before cold weather.

Call 22, either phone—or better still come to our yard and look us over and leave your orders.

MASSAGE THE HEAD

A Constant Reader.-A tight scalp means poor circulation, consequently, a starved condition of the hair. You can easily remedy that by massaging the scalp with the tips of the fingers or by treatments with the use of the vibrator. You can give yourself these treatments at home in either case. If you massage the scalp, do it vigorously, all the while trying to loosen the muscles from the bony part of the head. Do this every day until the head tingles from the exercise. Pulling the hair will also help the circulation.

A Reader.-These fatty pores you find increasing, must come from some internal disturbance. Possibly you have an impacted colon or a sluggish liver. Drink water abundantly between meals, several quarts of it a day, and also make sure that your digestion is perfect. You can relieve the condition also by using an astringent every night, after cleansing the face, by applying a weak solution of alum or a solution of boracic acid.

Rosetta.-You are about 20 pounds overweight. From your account of yourself, I fancy you eat too much and have become dyspeptic. A constant craving for food indicates indigestion. You can help this by dieting, but must relieve the distress by fooling the stomach whenever it is drinking water, which may be all that the stomach requires to quiet it. If that does not do it, nibble a hard cracker, taking a long time to dispose of it. This method will increase the flow of saliva in the mouth and the stomach will begin to act on the cracker as if it were a meal. Eat less each meal than formerly and watch your condition if you do not improve as fast as you desire, consult your doctor.

Your colors are all shades of blue, from pale to deep navy, delicate pink, green or yellow. You can wear all the dark colors in suits or serviceable frocks. Consult any of the good magazines about the changes in the styles of skirts for this fall.

M. C.-You are a blonde and a description of you would be a blonde with brown eyes. The shade of the hair and tint of the skin decide the type more than the color of the eyes, our hair is a light brown with a suggestion of glint to it a shade usually found with a blonde who has blue eyes.

GOLMAR

Save Five Cartons and Get a Pound Free:

KEEP the cartons from the first five pounds of Golmar that you buy and take them to your dealer before October 15. He will give you another pound of Golmar-and collect the price from us.

We are making this arrangement to show that we appreciate your making a thorough trial of Golmar. We know that once you have used these six pounds you will never use anything else.

It has the taste, the richness, the texture of the freshest creamery butter. It is made of the choice white meat of the choicest coconuts-that is why it is so good. But it costs much less than creamery butter.

Remember! This offer is good until October 15.

Your money back if you don't like Golmar.

SITUATION TODAY LIKENED TO THAT DURING CIVIL WAR

Marion, Sept. 21.—"We are fighting today for the same things you fought for fifty years ago—the preservation of American nationality and the constitution," declared Senator Warren G. Harding, addressing from his front porch yesterday a gathering of several hundred G. A. R. veterans in their worn blue uniforms and faded campaign hats of the '60's.

"You fought a great war that American nationality and the constitution might be preserved. And I pledge you as the son of a G. A. R. veteran that the inheritance you passed to us will not be dissipated in false ideals of internationalism.

"I would rather break the heart of the world than destroy the soul of America."

The veterans stopped off in Marion en route to the national encampment at Indianapolis. They made a brave showing, marching haltingly through the streets of Marion to the rousing strains of a fife and drum corps. Received with them at the front porch was a delegation of several score Kentucky and Tennessee Republicans, who through a mix-up in plans, came today instead of tomorrow when they were expected.

"Have you ever stopped to think," said Senator Harding, "that we were led into the great civil war through an ambiguity in our constitution? Realizing that ambiguity in our own constitution, how can we enter into another compact with a dozen ambiguities in it?"

ISSUES WARNING OF HESSIAN FLY

"The Hessian Fly was pictured at the Ohio State Fair this year as the most destructive insect in Ohio. There is no doubt but that this is true. The insect this year caused the absolute failure of thousands of acres of wheat in Ohio and also lowered the yield of practically every field of wheat in the winter wheat belt is the statement of County Agent Ford S. Prince.

"Wheat is higher in price today than it was during the war," he says. "A failure in the wheat crop on any farm means the loss of high priced seed, fertilizer, labor and the ultimate short returns in the years because of no high priced wheat so market."

"The Hessian Fly can be controlled by destroying volunteer wheat and by delaying the seeding in Greene County until October 1.

"Better seed a few acres less wheat and have a good crop than to seed early, lose all yours and damage thousands of acres for the neighborhood."

"Seed no wheat before October 1."

CANNING AND PRESERVING
Carrot Jam—Grind enough carrots to make one and one-half cups; grind two oranges and one lemon, rind and all. Measure. To this mixture add one cup water and cook until tender, then add as many cups of sugar as carrot mixture. Cook very slowly until consistency of marmalade.

Canning Peas.—To shell peas, pour boiling water over them and let boil a few minutes; they will shell easily.

Four boiling water over peas, drain and pour cold water over them. Pack in cans which have been sterilized in boiling water; add one teaspoon salt to each quart peas, cover with boiling water; put rubbers and lids on cans, screw tight to see they fit right, then loosen slightly to admit air. Put in boiler with wire rack or boards in bottom to keep cans from breaking. Cover with hot water one inch over cans and boil three hours after commencing to boil.

Remove one at a time and seal tight. Do not remove lids after cooking. Guaranteed to keep if directions are followed.

"DIFFERENT" MEAT DISHES.
Delicious Liver Dumplings—One and one-half pounds calf's liver and one cup beef suet ground, one and one-half cups toasted bread crumbs, three good-sized onions fried in butter, two tablespoons flour, two eggs, salt, paprika, parsley and nutmeg to suit taste.

Mix well together, then drop by spoonfuls in well-cooked meat broth and boil thirty minutes.

Pork Liver Loaf.—Parboil one-half pound of pork liver and put through a food chopper. Place in bowl and add two onions minced fine and one cup of fine bread crumbs. Season with salt, paprika and herbs. Mix thoroughly and then pack in well greased loaf shaped pan. Set in large pan containing warm water. Bake for fifty minutes in moderate oven. Serve hot with coldslaw or chili sauce.

Flemish Pot Pie.—Cut the meat left from the beef a la mode into small pieces. Line a well-greased casserole dish one-half inch thick with mashed potatoes and then add to the meat one cup of onions, two green peppers, parboiled until tender, two cups of cream sauce, the balance of the gravy left from the meat. Cover with crust of pastry, bake in slow oven fifty minutes; serve from dish.

Jellied Veal.—Boil veal or beef shank until meat and bones separate. Remove the bone. Season the broth to taste. Dice the meat, place in a mold, pour the broth over it and allow to congeal.

If there is not sufficient meat on the shank, other meat might be added. This is a very inexpensive meat dish.

FOR THE COOKIE JAR.
Cheap and Good Cookies.—One cup sugar (any kind), one-half cup lard, pinch of salt, one-half cup of sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one egg, flour to stiffen to roll out. Nuts or cocoanut or raisins may be added if preferred. They are cheap, but very good.

SEED SITUATION FOR CORN SERIOUS

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

A PROPOSAL

CHAPTER 122

"Miss Stewart, Zena, will you marry me?"

I fairly gasped with astonishment. It was Mr. Betts, the general manager, who had asked the question. He had gone out of his way for some time to efface the impression I had of him when I first went into the office. But that he had any such idea in his mind as marriage I had not even dreamed.

"Why—no—Mr. Betts!" I stammered. "Perhaps I was too sudden," he said with a smirk, "but I wanted you to know that is the way I feel toward you. If you will let me, I will make you care for me; and I'll say nothing more about marriage until you do. But I was afraid you'd think I didn't mean to be square by you, so I asked you to marry me first; then I can do my courting knowing that you understand I mean to be honest with you."

Did any girl ever have so queer a proposal. In a way his words were almost an insult, altho I knew he did not intend them to be so. "I am not afraid that any man will not be square with me Mr. Betts. I am fully capable of taking care of myself. I thank you for the honor you would pay me, but I must say no, and also ask you never to speak of this again."

I knew I spoke stiltedly. That I could not help. I disliked the man intensely, and he knew it—at least I felt that he did. I also felt he had no right to approach me as he had; yet, what could I do? I had not encouraged him in any way; in fact I had ignored him whenever possible, and been coldly polite at other times.

"Am I intruding?" a sneering voice asked as Miss Wilcox appeared in the doorway.

"Not at all!" I replied cordially, for the first time really glad of her company.

"I'll come in then."

It was the noon hour, and because of a frightful thunder storm the office boy had brought us some sandwiches and so saved us the necessity of going out.

"I ain't the kind that but in," Jennie remarked as she sat down. "You sure you weren't talking private matters?"

"Quite sure!" I answered, "I have nothing of a private nature to discuss with Mr. Betts." Jennie looked relieved at my reply, but I felt sure she more than half guessed what had happened. And as by this time I realized perfectly that she looked upon Mr. Betts as her own individual conquest, I did all I could to let her see I was pleased to have her come in.

After a bit he left us alone. "How stuck on you!" Jennie said, motioning toward his retreating figure.

"As long as I am not fond of him I don't see that it makes any difference how he feels—any real difference."

"You're a funny girl. I don't see how you can help liking him. Don't you think he is handsome? And he has to be smart to have his position and get the salary he does. I can't understand how you can turn him down." The last was said a bit wistfully.

"He is handsome, and as you say must be smart—at least in his line. But isn't it a good thing we don't all admire the same sort of people? What a hair-pulling time we girls would have if we all were in love with the same man."

Jennie laughed rather sheepishly. "I guess I haven't been very nice to you," she said slowly, as if the words came with an effort, "but I thought you were setting your cap for him, and—well—until you came—he liked me. He said he did anyway!" the last defiantly.

"He probably did and does. So don't fret about him. As far as I am concerned I would rather have your friendship than anything he could do for me."

"Is that honest, Zena?"

"Yes, Jennie."

"I was surprised at her action. The tears rushed to her eyes, and she said: 'I have been so unhappy! You see—he promised to marry me. Then, 'Now that I know you are my friend, and if he knows it too, perhaps he will keep his promise.'"

His return to the room with work for Jennie saved me the necessity of replying.

Tomorrow—Jennie and Zena Have a Talk.

corn should make certain of next years seed by keeping that already on hand in case of emergency.

There is no reason to worry about the situation provided every farmer gathers his seed from the field and dries it out in warm room before cold weather starts."
